INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

AJB42 Consulting Ltd can draw upon over 15 years of Health & Safety Consultancy experience, providing the full range of services across the Health, Safety & Environmental spectrum. Solutions have been provided for office, manufacturing, food, facilities & property management, health-care, social housing, production / warehousing and IT sectors.

Established in 2013, AJB42 Consulting aims to provide its clients with business focused solutions, tailored to their individual needs.

Andy Barton - Director

Andy Barton is a chartered member of the Institution of Occupational Safety and Health (CMIOSH) and a member of the Occupational Safety & Health Consultant's Register.

- NEBOSH National Diploma Part 2 in Occ Safety & Health - Pass with Distinction (2003)
- NEBOSH Specialist Environmental Diploma - Pass with Distinction (top UK result in 2004)

Andy is based in Ripponden, West Yorkshire and has worked countrywide across numerous business sectors (covering a wide variety of risk profiles (up to and including high risk manufacturing operations).

Andy has provided full, in-house, contract H&S managerial support to larger clients as well as the very popular 'Competent Person Service' - where organisations use Andy as their source of H&S advice. This is typically a more attractive option as smaller companies (with less H&S risk to manage) need only allocate (and purchase) a handful of days each month to help meet their legislative requirements.

"Health & Safety is a legal responsibility and it is important that your business understands what it needs to do.

Time (and money) spent proactively dealing with any issues will vastly outweigh the impact of an incident or accident that attracts regulatory interest, results in time off work or an unwelcome insurance claim.
