

H&S Consultancy

It is important that your business understands what it needs to do with respect to H&S matters. Time (and money) spent proactively dealing with any issues will vastly outweigh the impact of any incident or accident that attracts regulatory interest, results in time off work or an unwelcome insurance claim. H&S Consultancy typically includes some, or all of the various training, auditing and document based solutions that are commonly required to deliver good H&S management. Whether you only need a handful of documents preparing (such as an updated H&S Policy or Risk Assessments) or you are in need of a full Safety Management System being created, Ajb42 Consulting Ltd can help.

Ajb42 Consulting Ltd can provide a daily rate consultancy service or deliver larger multi-day projects, using CMIOASH level H&S professionals with extensive experience of H&S in office environments, food & drink production, chemical manufacturing, facilities management, IT infrastructure, and social housing.

Ajb42 Consulting Ltd also has the necessary experience to expand any consultancy service to incorporate Environmental Management, Food Safety & Hygiene, DDA and Fire Safety.

Why not see what Ajb42 Consulting Ltd can do for you?
